SUMMER 2021

Commander-in-Chief's Message

Once again this message begins with hopes that you and yours have been spared any adverse health impact of the continuing pandemic.

As noted in the report on the 65th Annual Lincoln Tomb Ceremony, the easing of restrictions on gatherings allowed for the resumption of this event. In providing the main address at the ceremony, I focused on President Lincoln's own words in his public speeches from early in his political career. They are quite an interesting read in light of the difficulties facing our nation in these challenging times. A speech given on January 27, 1838 in Springfield focused on the topic of lawlessness. You may be interested in reading President Lincoln's words and thoughts on "how shall we fortify against it?". I think you will find his answer is something that all Companions and Dames will agree upon and how the answer is totally relevant in our country today.

In the last edition of The Journal, I asked if any Commandery was willing to step forward and host our annual Congress. I am pleased to report that one Commandery has done so. The Board of Officers of the Pennsylvania Commandery at their March meeting voted to become the host of the 2021 annual Congress and we extend our sincere thanks to these officers for coming to our aide. Details on the Congress, which will be held on October 23 and 24, 2021 at the Union League of Philadelphia, appear elsewhere in this edition of The Journal.

I draw your attention to the revised rules for the submission of proposals to amend our Constitution and Bylaws. With the Congress now scheduled for October 23, any proposal must be circulated to all Commanderies no later than June 25. I mentioned a potential proposal for amendment in the Spring 2021 Loyal Legion Historical Journal. That entails the identification of a primary location for our Congresses as well as rescheduling the frequency of Congress to every other or every third year. Mention of this potential garnered only a single comment. We are looking for additional comments from our Companions on the matter, as it is patently obvious that state Commanderies are reluctant to host an annual Congress for a variety of reasons.

The rosette frames that were mentioned previously in The Journal were distributed in early March to 50-year and national life hereditary Companions. They are also being sent to Companions who become new national hereditary life members. I have received some nice comments from recipients and others who have seen the frames displayed with their rosettes. This has prompted a couple of Companions to comment that they've been putting off national hereditary life membership and the rosette frame has prompted them to finally getting around to doing so. If you are a 50-year member who may have been missed in the mailing, please let me know.

I also mentioned our efforts to enhance our communications in the Order. With the efforts of our Chancellor-in-Chief, the late Hobie Kistler, I thank Hobie and the members of the Standing Committee on the Internet and Public Relations. As a result we were able to produce our first electronic mass Emailing using Constant Contact. The committee was able to secure over 80% of the email addresses of our Companions. If you did not receive the initial Constant Contact Email, please Email me at: drjtc30@comcast.net. Concerning the Loyal Legion Historical Journal, we are always open to submissions of news from all Commanderies as well as submissions by our Companions of an historical nature. A new Publication Guidelines document is now available from the Loyal Legion Historical Journal Editor, Paul Davis. Please Email Paul Davis at: pdmarcomm@aol.com for a copy of the guidelines that will assist you in preparing your submissions.

In closing, I would like to remind you that contributions to the Loyal Legion Memorial Fund are accepted year round. Please mail your check to: Lee A. Tryon – Treasurer-in-Chief, 4 Raven Circle, Avon, CT 06001-3317. Clearly note that your check is for the LLMF. *

The Loyal Legion Memorial Fund receives dividend and interest income from its investments, and gratefully accepts gifts from estates of deceased Companions. But, an equally important component in meeting its various obligations — such as publishing this Journal, supporting historic sites and initiatives, and assisting commemorative events — is annual giving from Companions and other friends.

Often overlooked is the advantage of giving shares of stock. In particular, gifts of low basis-stocks are a highly effective way of supporting the mission of the Fund while avoiding dealing with capital gains tax upon sale. Once transferred, the shares can be sold by the Fund with no tax consequence, and all of the proceeds put to good use immediately.

If this makes sense for you, please contact Treasurer-in-Chief Lee Tryon at leetryon@comcast.net.

As always, cash gifts can be made easily and securely on-line at any time. See our PayPal link at the Legion's national website home page, http://suvcw.org/mollus.htm. *

Commandery Activities - 2021 Lincoln Tomb Ceremony

With COVID restrictions eased slightly, the annual MOLLUS/SUVCW observance of President Lincoln's death was observed on Saturday, April 17 in Springfield, IL. The weather cooperated for the resumption of this annual event and the attendance was similar to that witnessed in 2019. MOLLUS had a nice turn out of Companions with about a dozen in attendance. Senior Vice Commander-in-Chief Col. Robert D. Pollock served as the Master of Ceremonies for the tomb ceremony and provided an outstanding representation of the leadership of our Order. The presentation of the colors by Co. A of the 14th Michigan Infantry Regt. commanded by Michigan Commandery Commander Paul Davis with the Commandery-in-Chief flag carried by California Commandery Commander Linn Malaznik. Commanderin-Chief Joseph T. Coleman, Ed.D. provided the primary address for the ceremony and was assisted by Past Commander-in-Chief Captain James Simmons for the wreath laying portion of the program. Also in attendance at the ceremony were Recorder-in-Chief Dr. Gary Grove and Past Commander-in-Chief Gordon Bury. Dames Lynne Bury, Jan Davis, Ellen Higgins, Cathy Harris and Janice Stevenson also attended. The ceremony was followed by a luncheon at the Abraham Lincoln Hotel.

As President Lincoln serves as a major focal point for our Order, a trip to Springfield would be a great addition to any Companion's travel itinerary. Springfield served as President Lincoln's home for almost half of his life and to walk the Lincoln neighborhood gives one a definite sense of his presence and days spent representing the people of Illinois before departing for Washington as the elected 16th President of the United States. The Abraham Lincoln Museum is very well done and well worth a half-day of your time.

The Lincoln Death Day ceremony is a nationally sponsored joint event of MOLLUS and the SUVCW. *

The Virginia Commandery awarded seven ROTC Medals of Merit to outstanding Cadets at five Army ROTC battalions this Spring. Recipients at the University of Richmond's "Spider Battalion", comprised of students from six schools, were freshman Catherine E. Gregory of Virginia Commonwealth University and Sophomore Drake M. Kalinowski of Hampden-Sydney College. Sophomore Cadet Anastasia Bunting received the award for excelling at the Virginia Women's Institute for Leadership at Mary Baldwin University. Cadets Conor J. Odea of Christoper Newport University and Matthew P. Peterson of William & Mary are Sophomore members of those schools' combined "Revolutionary Guards Battalion". Virginia Companion John Moore presented the award at UT-Chattanooga's "Moc Battalion" to Junior Samuel E. Fuller. East Tennessee State University ROTC recognized Cadet Zane Seymore, a Junior.

The Michigan Commandery provided two MOLLUS ROTC awards via remote ceremony to Cadet Georgia Soto, Eastern Michigan University and Cadet Eric Nygaard, Michigan State University.

LTC Thomas Curtis, Wisconsin Commandery presented the MOLLUS ROTC Award to Air Force Cadet Avery Anderson. *

- Obituary -Hobart King Kistler July 26, 1990 - April 30, 2021

Lieutenant Hobart K. Kistler SC, USN, of Norfolk, VA, formerly of Centre Hall, PA, passed away on the evening of April 30, 2021 following an automobile accident. Hobie, Insignia 22536, was a member of the Pennsylvania Commandery elected on June 15, 2010. His ancestor was MAJ Franklin Zentmyer, 34th PA Volunteer Infantry. At the time of his passing, Hobie was serving as the Order's Chancellor-in-Chief.

Hobie graduated from Penns Valley Area High School in 2009 as valedictorian and class president. He was active with the Boy Scouts of America, earning the Eagle Scout Award and serving as Senior Patrol Leader to Troop 380 of Boalsburg.

Hobie was a 2013 graduate of the United States Naval Academy, where he earned a BS in Economics and graduated in the top 50 of his class. At the Naval Academy, he was a four-year member of the Varsity Offshore Sailing Team. Afterward, he completed an MS in Finance at Johns Hopkins University. Hobie first served afloat as Supply Department Head aboard the USS LOUISVILLE (SSN 724) at Pearl Harbor, HI, in which he completed two Western Pacific deployments and a U.S. Southern Command surge deployment.

Hobie moved to Washington, DC in 2017, where he spent three years as Deputy Director, Finance and Budget in the Office of Naval Reactors. Concurrent with this assignment, he served as a White House Military Social Aide. He had recently moved with his wife to Norfolk, VA to accept a position as Retail Services Officer aboard PCU JOHN F. KENNEDY (CVN 79), which he held until his passing.

Hobie was a man of great and generous spirit who is remembered fondly by people all over the world. He traveled extensively, to Costa Rica, Chile, and all across the United States, making friends and uniting distant relatives with his charisma, knowledge, and sense of humor. His love of the outdoors led him to enjoy hunting, sailing, hiking, and skiing. An avid historian, Hobie led guided tours at historic battlegrounds such as Gettysburg from a young age. He personally interviewed over 200 veterans of World War II, compiling their stories over many years into a book, The War They Won, which is pending publication. Although a bright future undoubtedly lay ahead of him, Hobie is dearly remembered for the many things he accomplished and the lives he touched in the time that he had.

Hobie is survived by his wife Meagan (Gatti) Kistler, of Washington, DC; his parents, the Hon. Thomas King and Mary Jane Kistler of Centre Hall, PA; and his siblings, Peter of Minneapolis, MN and Jane of London, UK.

Private services were held by the family at the United States Naval Academy. Interment will occur at Arlington National Cemetery at a later date.

The annual contribution by the Loyal Legion Memorial Fund to the American Battlefield Trust will hence forth be presented in tribute to Hobie.

In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made in Hobie's name to the American Battlefield Trust, online at www.battlefields.org/give/donate-tribute. *

MAJOR WILLIAM RIGHTER LONGSHORE, M.D. MOLLUS Class 1 Insignia 04949

By Blair Thron: Pennsylvania Commandery Insignia A-259

William Righter Longshore is my First Cousin and was a prominent Hazleton Surgeon born in Beaver Meadow, Carbon Co., Pennsylvania on September 10, 1838. William is descended from Revolutionary War families on both sides, paternal and maternal. William's father, Dr. Ashbel Brittain Longshore, worked on the same Engineer Corps as did the late Ariovistus Pardee (Ario Pardee's father). Ashbel Longshore was a merchant at Beaver Meadow and Berwick. He then studied medicine and practiced in Wyoming and Luzerne counties, later moving to Beaver Meadow.

William Righter Longshore spent part of his boyhood days in Philadelphia and vicinity, and at the age of fourteen moved to Hazleton with his family. He was educated in Kingston Seminary and Lewisburg University. William also studied medicine with his father in Hazleton, and attended Jefferson Medical College and the Pennsylvania College of Medicine in Philadelphia, graduating at the latter institute in 1860. He then served as an assistant to Dr. Kirkbride at the Pennsylvania Hospital for the Insane in Philadelphia until the fall of 1862. William then entered the Army as a 1st Lieutenant and Assistant Surgeon in Ario Pardee's 147th Pennsylvania Volunteer Regiment, which was attached to the 12th Army Corps, Geary's 2nd Division, 1st Brigade. William tended to the wounded at some of the war's bloodiest campaigns. After the battle of Gettysburg, and while still an assistant Surgeon, Dr. Longshore was placed in charge of the Rebel wounded and removed a minie ball from the thigh of Major William N. Berkeley, 1st Regiment, Virginia Infantry.

William was promoted to Major and Surgeon in October, 1863, and took part in the campaign of Wauhatchie Valley and the battles of Lookout Mountain and Missionary Ridge. After the 11th and 12th Corps were consolidated into the 20th Corps, they were sent to re-enforce Sherman; then went into camp at Wauhatchie Valley part of the winter of 1863-64, and afterward into permanent winter quarters at Bridgeport, Alabama.

At Bridgeport, Dr. Longshore had charge of the Brigade Hospital. On May 1, 1864, he was Acting Brigade Surgeon on Sherman's march from Chattanooga to Atlanta. After the capture of Atlanta on July 22, 1864, he was promoted to Brigade Surgeon, and went with Sherman on his march to the sea, and continued on the march through the Carolinas. Sometime during the 147th's march north through South Carolina, Surgeon Longshore acquired a parchment document that was thought to be a South Carolina Secession documents. He described the incident after the war as follows: "We came north from Georgia through South Carolina in three columns. The eastern one caused the fall of Charleston, the middle one burned Columbia, the western one, of which I was a part, came north along the base of the mountains and one day overtook a Confederate wagon train trying to escape from Columbia with vital state records. As I rode up I saw a trooper pull this document from an overturned wagon and I asked him to let me see it. He threw it to me and I put it in my saddle bag had it ever since, but the wagon train was burned."

At Goldsborough, N.C., William obtained a leave of absence, and traveled north to Philadelphia on April 14th just a few hours before John Wilkes Booth shot Lincoln in Washington. William Longshore returned to the Army on May 7th. He took part in the review of Sherman's command in Washington, and was mustered out with his Regiment during the latter part of July, the same year. He then settled in Hazleton, where he practiced medicine. On March 5, 1874, William was commissioned Surgeon of the "Old" 9th Regiment of Pennsylvania National Guard. William was with his command during the election riots of November 3, 1874 in Alabama. In June of 1890, he was commissioned Surgeon of the, 3rd Brigade, 9th Infantry Regiment of the National Guard of Pennsylvania.

William was a member of the Pennsylvania Commandery of the Loyal Legion, and also a member of the G.A.R. Robinson Post No. 20. He had various degrees of Freemasonry, the Luzerne County Medical Society, the Carbon County Medical Society, the Lehigh Valley Medical Association, the State Medical Society, and the American Medical Association. Politically he had always been a Republican, and cast his first vote for Abraham Lincoln in 1860. William settled in Hazelton and on April 25, 1865, married Miss Miatilda. A. Carter, daughter of William Carter, a coal mine owner of Beaver Meadow. William and Miatilda had a son Harry Carter Longshore born 1866 who died at the age of 14 in 1880. They had no other children. They adopted a daughter Jane Martin. William died in 1915 and is buried in the Vine St. Cemetery, Hazleton, Luzerne Co. Pennsylvania. *

The Lincoln Death Day Observances

By Gordon Bury Insignia 21473, OH Commandery

Past Commander-in-Chief, Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States

Past Commander-Chief-Chief, Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War

The history of the Lincoln Death Day Observances held each year in Oak Ridge Cemetery at the Lincoln Tomb found its origin with the annual Abraham Lincoln Birthday Ceremonies held at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington DC. In the mid 1950s, the Civil War Centennial was approaching. On October 13, 1953 CDR William C. Duval, USNR was elected Commander-in-Chief of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States (Loyal Legion). At the same time, U.S. Grant III was the Commander-in-Chief of the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War (SUVCW), and would be elected Commander-in-Chief of the Loyal Legion on October 11, 1957.

Commander Duval thought that there should be a ceremony/observance at the Lincoln Tomb to commemorate the April 15, 1865 death date of our 16th President, Abraham Lincoln. He further thought that it should be patterned after the annual Lincoln Birthday Ceremonies held in Washington DC each year on February 12th. The honor of planning and executing the 1923 dedication ceremonies of the Lincoln Memorial had been bestowed on the Loyal Legion by President Warren G. Harding.

Commander Duval reviewed his idea with his close friend U.S. Grant III who supported him to that end. In moving forward for such a ceremony, Commander Duval contacted a Loyal Legion Companion from Indianapolis, Indiana, Eli Lilley as well as George L. Cashman of Springfield, Illinois who was the Caretaker of the Lincoln Tomb and lived in the stone house next to the tomb. George was also a member of the SUVCW and later would become Commander-in-Chief of that organization.

Bill Duval then drove to Indianapolis, picked up Eli Lilly and they continued to Springfield to meet with George Cashman where they formulated the outline for the proposed ceremony. It would center on two main presenters, the Commanders-in-Chief of the Loyal Legion and the SUVCW, with the National Presidents of the Allied Order of the GAR and the Dames of the Loyal Legion laying wreaths along with a large number of Veterans, Patriotic, Hereditary, and other such Societies. The ceremony set to be held at 11:00 AM on the 15th of April each year commencing in 1956.

U.S. Grant III was named as Chairman of the American Civil War Centennial Presidential Commission by General and President Dwight D. Eisenhower. CDR William C. Duval was named as Co-Chairman. In those first years of the Death Day Ceremonies, President Dwight David Eisenhower attended the Death Day Observance and a wreath was placed by the President in honor of President Lincoln.

For years there were large numbers of the 114th Regiment Ill. Vol. Inf. who were members of the Chicago Sons (SUVCW) Camp and the SVR (Sons of Veterans Reserve). The unit acted as the honor guards for the Death Day Ceremonies. They were appointed by the Governor of Illinois to be his personal escort and honor guards for the Civil War Centennial as well. In later years the 114th was absorbed into the Illinois National Guard by transfer from the SVR and only remained a few years to serve at the Tomb Ceremonies on the Death Day. Thomas L.W. Johnson who was a Loyal Legion Companion and Past Department Commander of the Department of Wisconsin, SUVCW served as Chairman of the Death Day for many decades. He was assisted by his wife Ellinore Konrad Johnson. Ellinore was Past National President, Auxiliary to the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War. Her Commander-in-Chief of the SUVCW was U.S. Grant III. Ellinore each year sent out hundreds of invitations and notices of the forth-coming Death Day Ceremonies and activities to all the organizations and persons involved in the Ceremonies. An informal dinner was always held the evening before the ceremonies in the State House Inn across from the State Capitol for the Death Day participants who were staying at the hotel.

From the inception of the Ceremonies until the death of Eli Lilley at the end of the 1970s, each year a program of heavy 11 by 18 inch gloss stock served as the program of the event with two thirds of the cover page being a full color photograph of the Tomb. The second page was the program order of the day. The next three pages of the program contained in small print each of the Wreath Layers title, name, and organization represented, along with the organization represented. The last page listed the Luncheon Activities and Program. Lastly was listed the Lincoln Tomb Ceremony Committee. All those loyal members for many years, like Lincoln, "have passed unto the ages".

During the Ceremonies each year it was an honor invested to the Commander-in-Chief of the SUVCW to present at the conclusion of his respective remarks Lincoln's Farewell to Springfield address. A firing salute was given prior to Taps. Following the conclusion of the Ceremonies the Commanders-in-Chief and National Presidents of the Allied Orders, would be escorted to place their live formal tributes within the Crypt below which lay the remains of Abraham Lincoln.

The participants would all retire to the State House Inn for a formal luncheon with a renowned speaker presenting their latest program on the War of the Rebellion. The Ballroom would be over filled with hundreds of participants and their families.

It was on one such Death Day Observance that while waiting to give my address, seated next to the Lincoln Bust (when it was between the steps and the Crypt door) that I learned the details of the passing of the co-founders of the Death Day Ceremonies, that is CDR William C. Duval and George L. Cashman, both whom I knew very well for years! It was more than haunting to me when I found out that not only had they both passed the same day, but during the same hour within a minute of each other! As I wiped my teary eyes, Thomas Johnson concluded his introduction of me and it was time for me to give the tribute to Lincoln and read the Lincoln Farewell to Springfield!

We must continue to look to the origins of the Death Day Ceremony, strive to carry on the intentions of its founders, and adhere to the responsibilities which they wisely established for us. *
